WILTSHIRE
Living
OCTOBER 2026 • LIVING-MAGAZINES.CO.UK • A NEWSQUEST PUBLICATION • COMPLIMENTARY

ELEGANT ESCAPE
DISCOVER STANTON HOUSE HOTEL, SWINDON'S LAKESIDE LOCAL TREASURE

Wellbeing WISDOM
This Morning's Dr Zoe on her own health challenges

Plus

HOMES & GARDENS
ARTS & CULTURE
STYLE & WELLNESS

Wedding showcase
A-Z for planning your perfect day

PITCH PERFECT
Tenors Unlimited live in Salisbury

Healthy HABITS
Fuss-free guide to protein-packed meals

GRAND NOTES
A Wiltshire home with Arts & Crafts credentials

SWINDON

Outsider art studio opens

Studio BRUT opened on Saturday, August 15 at Arclite House, Century Road, Peatmoor, Swindon. It is Swindon's first professional art studio for outsider artists, those who work outside the usual art school and gallery routes.

It was founded by artists Harrie Dearing and SLART in a building that was underused until Swindon Culture Collective and Hypha Studios brought it back into creative use. More than 120 people booked in.

The Mayor of Swindon attended, along with councillors from both Swindon Borough Council and West Swindon Parish Council.

studiobrut.art

DJ Dust entertains

Queen's Park ward councillor Cllr Marina Strinkovsky, enjoying the art

Councillor Neil Hopkins, Mayor of Swindon; Mrs Claire Garrett, DL; SLART, outsider artist and co-founder of Studio BRUT

Swindon graffiti artists Jaksta and Ramone, admire SLART's artwork

Councillor Neil Hopkins, Mayor of Swindon; Mrs Claire Garrett, DL; SLART, outsider artist; Dr Rod Hebden, CEO of Swindon Culture Collective CIC

Shirley Ludford, broadcaster and station manager at 105.5 Community Radio, interviews SLART

Councillor Neil Hopkins, Mayor of Swindon with Mike Buss, editor and founder of Entertainment Swindon

A last-minute hanging decision by SLART

Councillor Neil Hopkins, Mayor of Swindon, gives the opening speech

DJ Moussa Clarke on the decks

The exhibition space at Studio BRUT